

GREAT DAMAGE DONE AT TOPEKA, KANSAS

HAIL STONES SPREAD RUIN IN THE CITY.

Roofs and Windows Shattered, Trees Denuded, Electric Systems Demoralized, and a Number of Persons Badly Hurt By the Missiles—Cost of Storm Cannot Be Estimated.

Topeka, Kas., June 25.—Topeka was bombarded by a violent hailstorm Thursday evening, and looks like a city that had withstood a siege of war guns.

Roofs and windows are caved in, sidewalks are reduced to splinters, and in every quarter of the capital the ground is thickly covered with broken shingles, limbs of trees and shattered glass.

There are not a dozen houses in the entire town that boast a full set of windows or a whole roof. Following the hail, which tore away the shelter, rain poured into the unprotected buildings, doing great damage to the contents.

The hailstones ranged in size from that of a hen's egg to a foot in circumference. Thirty minutes after the storm had passed a hailstone was picked up that measured fourteen inches around. The clouds opened their batteries, and for fifteen minutes poured a ceaseless volley of ice, which simply shattered everything, even piercing the roofs of the street cars, knocking down horses and men unfortunate enough to be caught out of shelter.

Surgeons are busy dressing the wounds of the victims. While no deaths have been reported, many persons were badly hurt, and the country districts have yet to be heard from.

The storm came at 6:30 o'clock with such rapidity that there was little time for those outside to seek shelter. Horses, maddened by the pain and fright, ran away, and many persons were injured in this manner. At the Santa Fe depot six teams ran away at one time, the horses stumbling and dashing about in an attempt to escape the pitiless storm.

Wires were beaten down and it is feared when communication is reopened with the country districts reports of fatalities will be frequent.

The electric systems of the city were demoralized and street car traffic is suspended. Great damage was done to the police and fire alarm wires, and telephone wires were battered to the ground. Corrugated iron roofs were beaten in as if they had been so much paper.

The damage cannot be estimated, but it will reach far into the thousands.

MEDICINE ADS. BARRED.

May Not Be Published in the United Lutheran Newspaper.

St. Paul, June 25.—The United Lutheran synod signaled its first session by adopting a motion that all patent medicine advertisements be taken out of the church paper, the Lutheran.

A motion to divide the society in three parts and have three small annual conventions, with a meeting of the whole church every third year, was indefinitely postponed.

Nine preachers having transgressed the constitution of the church, article 4, section 1, and also spurned the resolution of 1895 with reference to the ordination of theological candidates, were practically excommunicated from the church. It is very probable that many more will be excommunicated at the next convention, as it is reported that there are seventy-two ministers who favor the Augsburg side of the case.

SHERIFF WANTS TROOPS.

Imminent Danger of a Lynching at Crystal Springs Miss.

Jackson, Miss., June 25.—Lieutenant Governor Jones, acting governor of Mississippi in the absence of Governor McLaurin, who is attending a meeting of the Mississippi river commission in New York, Thursday received a telegram asking that troops be sent to Crystal Springs to protect William Mosely, a negro who murdered John H. Strong, a white man, last Tuesday, for $10.

Governor Jones is at Woodville, on a branch line, and up to a late hour it was impossible to get him. He is the only officer having authority to call out the troops, and the sheriff will be thrown on his own resources.

The excitement at Crystal Springs is said to be intense, and it is expected the negro will be lynched.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 25.—Judge Showalter of Chicago heard arguments Thursday on the motion to dissolve his order restraining the Citizens' Street railroad company from receiving other than a five-cent fare. The legal battle was kept up all day and was not finished when the court adjourned.

JAPAN HAS AN EYE ON THAT ISLAND

THE RESULTS MAY BE SERIOUS.

Subjects of the Mikado Would Be Barred From Citizenship in the United States in the Event of Annexation—Strong Protest Is Made By Russian Paper.

Washington, June 25.—Hawaii in Washington insist that the reason for the protest of Japan against Hawaii's annexation to the United States is that Japan really desires to acquire the islands herself. The main point of contention between Japan and Hawaii over the treaty between the two countries, it is learned, is as to the wording of the treaty which Hawaii seeks to abrogate. This treaty has a provision "that it may be terminated at any time by mutual consent." This is construed by the Japanese government to mean that the treaty cannot be terminated without the consent of both governments, and so long as Japan insists upon keeping it in force it cannot be abrogated. The Hawaiian contention is that the words have no such meaning and that any contract or agreement can be dissolved by mutual consent as a matter of course; that if the claim of Japan was valid the treaty would be in effect permanently.

At present there are 25,000 Japanese in the islands, with large property rights, and under the present conditions they are entitled to become citizens of Hawaii. In case of annexation these Japanese could not become citizens of the United States, as the decisions of United States Circuit courts are to the effect that no Asiatic can become a citizen of the United States. By annexation the Japanese now resident in Hawaii would be subject to any measures that might be adopted by the United States. They would lose the right to become citizens and to vote, and the large interests owned by Japanese citizens in the islands would be greatly jeopardized.

Russian Newspaper Protests.

London, June 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Morning Post says the Novoe Vremya protests vigorously against the action of the United States as to Hawaii, which, it adds, may soon be followed by an attempt to annex Cuba. "Europe," says the Novoe Vremya, "has every reason to oppose the strengthening of the United States in the new world, and must be ready to support Spain if she is threatened with the loss of Cuba."

WEYLER BEGINS HIS MARCH.

Departs for Santiago de Cuba with an Army of 40,000 Men.

Key West, Fla., June 25.—Gen. Weyler has left Santiago de Cuba province, and 40,000 men will be at his command. Many soldiers have been withdrawn from Pinar del Rio and Havana provinces. One of the severest fights occurred near Managua, Havana province, where 1,000 Spaniards, after nine hours of hard fighting, had to retreat to the town of Managua, leaving on the field many dead and wounded. The Cubans were under the command of Castillo and Juan Delgado. They used artillery.

There seems to be little doubt that Gen. Ruis Rivera and Col. Bacallo will be executed very soon.

The crew of the dauntless will be tried to-day. The men have been for several days under arrest and incommunicado, armed sailors surrounding them on board the Dauntless and not allowing any person to speak or write to them.

It was a day of constant roll calls and of cross-fire debates on the effect of the duties in advancing rates. Many amendments were proposed to reduce the rates, but these were rejected by decisive majorities. Less than five pages were disposed of during the day, carrying the senate through paragraph 370, the first of the paragraphs relating to carpets. Belgian Expedition Is Massacred in the Sudan.

Brussels, June 25.—The Reforme says that it learns from a good source that the entire Dhanis expedition to the headwaters of the Nile, including Baron Dhanis himself, has been massacred.

Baron Dhanis last year enlisted 6,000 men in the Congo Free State to take part in a secret expedition. The British government allowed a number of its Hussar troops to join the expedition, but it was officially denied that the Anglo-Belgian movement had been concerted against the mahdists. The general impression, however, was that this force was intended to act in conjunction with the Anglo-Egyptian expedition up the Nile and take the mahdists between two fires and eventually complete the reconquest of the Sudan. In August last Baron Dhanis was reported to have arrived at Lado, north of the territory of the Congo Free State, on the White Nile, and some 325 miles north of Victoria Nyanza. It was then understood that the Dhanis expedition would push on northward in the direction of Khartoum.

Stuck His Hand Into a Pail of Boiling Tar—Finger Nails Dropped Off, and He may Suffer Amputation—Tramps Terrorize People—Some Other News Notes.

M. Colburn of Walworth, met with a serious accident last week Thursday. He was putting on a roof of cement made of hot tar and sand, and while at work his attention was called to something else, when he put his hand into the bucket of hot tar instead of sand. He went to a physician at once and had the hand dressed, and he hopes to save it, though there is some danger.

Man Painfully Hurt.

While John Burke was unloading milk at the Delavan factory from Ed. Eakin's wagon, an empty can tipped over and threw him out upon the whiffletree, frightening the horses so that they ran away. One of them began to kick and struck John, detaching him from the whiffletree, when the wagon ran over him. He was immediately picked up insensible and placed in a wagon and brought to Dr. Blanchard's office, and then taken home. It was found that his shoulder and collar bone were badly shattered, his leg broken near the ankle besides having his face badly lacerated from the horses' feet, requiring several stitches to close up the gashes. The doctors proceeded to set the fractured bones and make him as comfortable as possible, although it will probably be a long time before he gets around again. The family are being visited with a series of misfortunes. Only a few months ago, James Capen, a step-father to John, was killed by a horse trampling upon him in front of the Methodist church. Mrs. Capen has recently returned from Canada, where she was called to bury her daughter, Mrs. Charles Swallow, the fourth of her children that has died within a few years. After they left the place she ran to the nearest house and informed them, when the neighbors turned out to catch the rascals, and so great was the indignation that if the robbers had been found there would have been a lynching bee, but they got away safely.

Besides her parents, she leaves a husband and six children, one being a baby only a few months old.

He was restored after much effort, and has nearly recovered from his perilous mishap.

Fought With a Bull.

Ed Greenman, of Walworth, is laid up after an encounter with an ugly bull on the Arthur Ayres farm. He went into the pasture after the cows when Mr. Bull attacked him in a furious manner and would have killed him outright had not the hired man rushed to his aid. The basket ball game between the lady teams was won by Miss Susie Davis' team, by a score of 2 to 0.

The Base Ball Game.

The game of ball Thursday afternoon between the Y. M. C. A. team and the home team was a slugging match, with errors galore, of which the visitors took the belt with the latter and the home team won out in the former. When our boys saw the ex-leaguers, Shicker and Crall, in the points for the visitors, they had a bad case of "Charley horse" and did not get over it until the Janesville men had scored nine, in three innings, when they braced up and began pounding Shicker and did not let up until they had twenty-four to their credit at the close of the eighth. The Y. M. C. A. were blanked in the fourth, fifth seventh and eighth and had to be content with a total of twelve. Shicker received very poor support, while the home team put up a good fielding game. Batteries for Janesville, Shicker and Crall, Milton, Aiken and Sullivan. Struck out, Shicker 3, Aiken 10. Time of game, too long. Umpire, Bachford.

Class of Three Got Their Diplomas—Other News Notes.

Fulton, June 2.—The graduation exercises of the Fulton graded school took place Friday evening at the Congregational church in the presence of a large audience who testified their appreciation of the literary efforts of the class of '97 by frequent applause. The music of the evening was furnished by Claud Murwin, Miss Hattie Lee and pupils of the school and was received with much favor by the hearers. The graduates were Miss Pearl Coon, essay "Wise Eagle"; Miss Beale Grove; "Our National Song"; Claud Murwin, "Our Flag." Their diplomas were delivered to them with appropriate remarks by B. F. Martin. B. F. Martin made a quick trip to Janesville Tuesday on his wheel transacting business and returning in time for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Gifford and Mr. Will Wright and sister, Emma and Mrs. Mary Murwin attended church Sunday afternoon at Wheeler Prairie and listened to a very fine lecture upon "India" which was delivered by the pastor, O. #### MUCH LEAF PUT IN AT CENTER

Largest Acreage in Years Has Been Set—Some Other News.

Center, June 25.—This has been a week of ideal weather for tobacco raisers, and the largest acreage for years has been put out, and is in first class growing condition. The oat crop will not be as heavy as in 1886, owing to the ten days of hot, dry weather the first part of June; they are already in head, with a very short straw. Corn is a fair stand, and looking good, but will stand all the work that can be put on it after the continued rains of this week. The Center creamery is doing a splendid business this season, and is gaining new patrons each week. William H. Dean, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, is seriously ill at his home. The annual school meeting of District No. 2 will be held July 5; business of importance will come before the meeting. Large quantities of the '96 tobacco crop were delivered to Orford buyers the first part of this week.

A large amount of fine stone work has been put up in our cemetery the past spring if the directors would carry out some of their intended improvements it would add greatly to appearances. Who will climb the Center flag staff and replace the rope? It broke on the evening of Decoration day and our flag is useless until the rope is replaced don't all apply at once for the job. P. H. Torphy has his eagle eye on some of the elegant crops of weeds that are now growing in waste places and you are liable to hear from him soon. J. H. Nicholson and family were on our streets Tuesday. Fred Vankirk is continually adding to his stock and can supply you with almost anything in general merchandise at very low rates. A much needed addition has been built on the parsonage. A front fence would greatly improve the property also.

South Clinton News.

South Clinton, June 25.—There was a good prayer meeting at W. E. Dresser's last week Thursday evening. The next one will be at C. J. Dresser's next week Thursday evening.

GAVE HIS CHECK FOR $100.

Editor Horace White Makes Beloit Seniors Happy.

Horace White, editor of the New York Post and an alumnus of the college, made the Beloit college senior class happy yesterday. It was found that the class had lost money on the senior concert. This fact reached the New York editor's ears, and he gave them a check for $100 which wipes out the deficit. Mr. White has enjoyed his visit to Beloit. It is his first in many years. He said, to-day that he got his inspiration to become a newspaper man while a carrier for The Beloit Journal, now The Free Press. He received 50 cents a week for his services.

In this column we from day to day present the store news clearly and concisely, touching on new arrivals, standard values and bargains. Always something here of interest if one would keep posted on the store's movements.

AID 2—Shirt Waist bargains. Overstocked; were 50, 60 and 75c. We have been offering them since Saturday at 25c. One look tells you that they're good to have at such a figure. Don't wait too long.

AID 3—Toilet Sacques, most comfortable garment a woman ever put on. Lovely styles in dainty striped dimity reduced from $2 to $1 40. Also all white with wide collars; lovely embroidery on collar and edging sleeves. Fine, sheer muslin; were $2 25, now $1 75.

AID 4—Wrappers, white dimity and muslin; very choice styles. About two dozen garments. Although made to sell at two to four times what we ask for them. We have put the price at 98c.

AID 5—In our last 'ad.' we mentioned black muslin Wrappers with small colored flowers, sheer quality, at $1.50. To push the sale of them we offer the lot at a figure that will do it—$1.15

AID 6—McCall Bazar Patterns. We took the agency for them the first of the year, but reluctantly, as we were not very favorably inclined toward patterns. We have been pleasantly surprised by the large number of patterns sold. They give excellent satisfaction, are up to date, easy to understand, sure fitting, and only 10c and 15c. Women tell us (but we know it full well) that it is all nonsense paying high prices for patterns when one can get the McCall Patterns at 10 and 15c.

AID 7—Genuine Shantung Pongee Silk, printed, designs artistic, colors, red, blue, brown, gray, purple; it is 27 inches wide, and we offer it at the former wholesale price, $6.50 a pattern, which measure 14 3/4 to 15 1/2 yards—just the thing for a light summer dress, and serviceable. Quality limited.

To Force the Fighting.

New York, June 25.—A meeting of prominent Cubans, presided over by Delegate Tomas Estrada Palma, was held last night at the Astor house, and was largely attended by planters, merchants and others having property or interests in Cuba. The meeting, which was private, had for its object the agreement upon a plan for raising within a short time the necessary funds to carry on a decidedly vigorous campaign against the Spanish government in Cuba next winter, in case the absolute independence of the island is not by that time established.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 25.—[Special to Byrd & Law Commission Co.]—The present position all the new wheat will come to Chicago in July, and from being twenty cents above as we may see Toledo ship wheat to Chicago again. July wheat is simply congested here. The bears have culminated the July corner in June. The long interest is scattered and not concentrated. There are half dozen lines long wheat aggregating five to six million and every one of these interests is depending on the other fellow to corner the market. A corner under such circumstances is an impossibility and there will be none in my opinion. The long wheat is held by tailors, and there will be a scramble to sell it some day. Armour is not interested in cornering the market and the transfer to him was simply a trick, to which he barely consented. I would not have transferred two hundred thousand to him had I believed he would corner the market.
A natural corner has been brought about by the fear of the shorts. It will be over soon. In the meantime let the tailors have the deal and trade in September wheat and buy September ribs.
Trade is improving and the pails which have been filled at the free soup houses will have bacon in them. It is cheaper than soup and the working man's staff of life. You cannot lose money buying ribs. You are bound to make money and cannot be intimidated by cheap manipulators.

It was a tired and sleepy lot of Odd Fellows that arrived home from Evansville this morning. They arrived at the Cent. A banquet was then served to the visitors at the city hall and James A. Fathers delivered a short but interesting address. A dance followed and the local visitors returned home via train and carryall.

Harness Broke While Creek Was Being Forded, and Water was Deep.
George B. Sweet's family came near drowning last Saturday, while driving through the Allen Grove creek. Mr. Sweet drove in, and when in mid-stream the tugs broke and the buggy drifted into a deep hole. He took the two small children on his shoulder and reached shore, while his wife and seven year old son stood upon the seat and awaited his return. He succeeded in getting them all ashore.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

Fred Lyons.
Fred Lyons died at Oak Lawn hospital at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, of inflammatory rheumatism. Mr. Lyons came to Janesville from Sioux Falls, with J. H. Donahue some years ago. He was a cook by trade, and was employed by Con. McDonald. While at work in the restaurant, some days ago, he pricked his finger with a fish bone, and blood poisoning followed, and Dr. Joe Whiting had the sick man removed from his room in the Worthington block, to Oak Lawn. He was very ill, and his system was greatly run down. He recovered from the poisoning, but when he became the victim of rheumatism, he had little strength to withstand it and it ravaged. Yesterday his heart became affected, and death followed. Mr. Lyons was thirty-six years of age, and was to have been married in a short time. He leaves a sister at Sioux Falls. The funeral was held this afternoon, from the hospital. Rev. H. W. Thompson officiated, and the interment was made at Oak Hill.

Mrs. Sophie Walton.

Mrs. Sophie Walton, of the town of Plymouth died Monday evening, June 21, at the home of her son-in-law Harry Walton, aged 86 years, 9 months and 12 days. She leaves one daughter. She was buried yesterday afternoon, Rev. Spencer of Christian church officiating. The pall bearers were Mark Honeysett, Stephen Honeysett, Samuel Honeysett and William Turner. The interment was made at the Grove cemetery.

The coroner's jury is composed of Frank L. Stevens, James Sennett, James Kilmer, J. T. Wagner, Ed. O. Brown and Edward Smith.
The jury brought in a verdict late this afternoon that the deceased came to his death as the result of a pistol wound inflicted by his own hands. L. M. Goodhue will arrive in the city this evening to take charge of the remains and the body will be taken to Whitewater.

AN APPEAL TO THE FARMERS.

Wisconsin Health Officials Alarmed by Diseased Cattle.

At a meeting of the State Board of Health at Milwaukee, Secretary Wingate and Dr. Q. O. Sutherland of this city, were appointed to devise some plan by which the advance made by the tuberculosis bacilli on cattle in Wisconsin could be stopped. The steady increase of the disease has reached a point where it endangers lives of human beings, and the state board decided to make a vigorous attack on the disease. In speaking of the probable action of the committee, Dr. Wingate said:

"We wish to try to devise some plan by which the spread of the disease can be arrested without resorting to law. If the facts are laid before the dairymen and farmers of Wisconsin I believe they can be induced to co-operate with the efforts to stamp it out."

A large number of cattle are suffering from this disease, and it is quickly communicated from one animal to another. A great many people get the disease from drinking the milk of the infected cattle. If the diseased cattle could be killed the danger to the public would be greatly lessened. The greatest danger from the milk of the infected cattle is to children.

The flesh of the diseased cattle, unless the malady is far advanced, is suitable for food, and the carcasses known to be suffering could be killed and the carcasses sold. The owners of infected cattle possibly can be persuaded to adopt this course. It would be for their benefit as well as for the benefit of the public.

The tuberculin test readily indicates whether a cow is infected, and the herds of any locality can be tested easily and the diseased cows picked out. Of course here are many difficulties in the way of this course, but we hope that the majority of the farmers and dairymen will see that it is to their advantage to weed out the infected cattle from their herds.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

That Common Trouble, Acid Dyspepsia or Sour Stomach.

Now Recognized as a Cause of Serious Disease.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every day occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal many people do nothing for the trouble.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectively restores a vigorous digestion at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living. ## NORTON FOUND DEAD IN A HOTEL ROOM

AGED MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE LAST NIGHT.

Fired a Twenty-Two Calibre Bullet Into His Brain With a Pocket Rifle While Lying on His Back in Bed—Had Been Dead Some Hours When Found.

Lying in a single bed in room number 13 at the hotel, at the corner of Milwaukee and Academy streets, I. N. Norton, a retired bookkeeper-farmer, formerly of Whitewater, was found dead at 11 o'clock this morning.

In his right hand was clutched a long barreled 22 calibre Stevens pocket rifle, and at a bullet hole in his right temple a big clot of blood commenced. A new box full of cartridges lay on a table near by.

He had been dead for some hours, Dr. Joe Whiting said, as he washed the blood away from the wound, and the bullet had evidently entered the brain. Justice Richardson at once summoned a jury, and a coroner's inquest was being held this afternoon.

Norton was a man sixty years of age, with white hair and beard. About a year and a half ago he came from Whitewater to Janesville. Since that time he had resided at the hotel. He had no occupation. He had been a bookkeeper at the Esterley Harvester Works at Whitewater for some time. It is said that he also owned a farm, on the rental of which he lived.

Found by Mrs. Bahr.

For some days past he had been drinking considerably. Last night he went into the barroom and got a sandwich.

"You have always been very kind to me, Mrs. Bahr," he remarked as he passed the wife of the proprietor while on the way to his room. That was the last time he was seen alive.

At eleven o'clock this morning he had not yet come down stairs. Mrs. Bahr went up to make up his bed, but found the door closed. Thinking that perhaps all was not right, she stepped out onto the roof of a wing of the building. Here she could look into Norton's window. Norton was lying on the bed and a crimson stain could be seen on the pillow and bedding. Mrs. Bahr was horrified at the sight. She hastened down stairs and told her husband. He at once sent word to Sheriff Acheson and the sheriff and Chief Hogan at once went to the hotel. Norton's room was No. 13, located on the third floor and above the store formerly occupied by James Whittaker as a cigar factory.

Body Was Cold.

Norton lay on the bed. The body was cold. He had not disrobed, but had removed his coat and shoes. The bedding had been tossed off on the floor and the dead man lay on his back with his head high up on the pillow. The weapon with which the fatal work had been done was clutched in his right hand and lay across the dead man's chest. The muzzle of the gun rested on the thumb of Norton's left hand. The weapon was a Stevens "pocket rifle," a single shot pistol with a ten inch barrel, and a detachable skeleton stock. It was chambered for a twenty-two calibre rim fire cartridge and the ball was not larger than a pea. The weapon was made for strong and accurate shooting however, and had sent the diminutive leaden pellet crashing through the bones of Norton's head, and reached a vital spot. The ball was not found. Only one shot was fired, and appearances indicated that it had done its work instantly, there being nothing to show that Norton had suffered or struggled.

Dr. Joe Whiting had been summoned by the authorities, and made an examination.

Had Been Dead Some Hours

He found the body cold and rigid, and said that Norton had been dead some hours. The room was scarcely 15x7 feet and the door and windows were tightly closed. No one heard the shot fired. The weapon used did not make a loud report. Norton's room was rather apart from other other occupied apartments, and it is doubtful if the sharp crack of the target rifle could have been heard across the hall anyway. It was thought that Norton fired the shot soon after retiring, and that he had been dead at least since midnight.

The remains were taken in charge by the officers. Dr. Whiting concluded his examination and Justice Richardson at once issued an order for a coroner's jury. The juryman viewed the remains and then adjourned until 3 o'clock when the inquest was begun at the justices' office. Whitewater relatives whose addresses were secured from letters lying on the table were notified by telegraph.

Leaves Some Relatives.

Norton was either a widower, or was divorced but none who knew him could state positively which. He leaves two daughters, it is said, one of whom is a school teacher. Some of the people who knew him were of the opinion that he was quite wealthy. He had recently returned from a visit with relatives in Kansas. He had kept up a correspondence with his relatives in Whitewater, and several letters from them were found among his effects, but he left no message to explain his act.

Seven dollars and some odd cents were found in his pockets.

The people at the hotel spoke highly of Norton, saying that he was an educated man. Some days ago he complained that a fellow boarder had

LEAF RAISERS WORK TO GOOD ADVANTAGE

FINE WEATHER HAS BEEN THE RULE THIS WEEK.

Cut Worms Have Ceased to Prey On the Plants, and Rains Give Them Vigorous Life—Crops Look Very Promising—But Little Is Doing In Old Leaf.

Tobacco planting has been carried on under much more favorable weather conditions the present week than any time since the season opened. Rain fell pretty generally over the tobacco section of the state from the 16th to 18th, in many localities amounting to heavy rain falls. These storms have been followed by cool weather and cloudy days, that was most needed for the rooting of the late set plants. A good deal of hand setting followed the recent rains and the machines have been kept very busy in the fields since. The plants have thus had a chance to take root quickly, while the late rains have started them along nicely. The cut worms which are doing quite a good deal of damage during the dry weather have ceased their ravages since the advent of the rains. By the close of this week it is quite probable that close onto 75 per cent of the intended acreage will have been set in the fields and much of it well started growing. The date of planting is not as early as last year but will average with that of ten seasons past and under ordinary conditions is early enough to secure the ripening of the crop at the proper time. It is not the very earliest or the very latest set fields that generally give the best results. The Edgerton Reporter says the '97 crops therefore being put out under much more favorable conditions than was anticipated.

Leaf Trade Dull.

In cured leaf there is no business in the Edgerton market to speak of. The Reporter continues, but now that the tariff matter seems to be settled, dealers are hopeful that trade will gradually shift back to its old channels.

The weather of the week has been exactly suited for the getting out of the new crop, and the growers are everywhere working long hours. Frequent heavy rains have come timely to start along the newly set fields in fine shape. Planting has progressed so rapidly that by the close of this week the great bulk of the crop will be standing in the fields and looking very promising. It is seldom that growers have been favored with so suitable weather for getting out their crop than the week just closing. Some complaint from cut worms are made and many fields planted during the scorching days of last week have had to be re-set. The present outlook for the new crop is very decidedly favorable. The shipments out of storage at this point reach a total of 500 cases or about ten carloads for the week.

SALARIES ARE CUT DOWN.

Wisconsin Postmasters Will Not Get So Much Pay.

In the re-adjustment of Wisconsin postoffices made recently by the postal department the salary of the Edgerton postmaster was decreased from $1500 to $1400 and of the Evansville postmaster from $1600 to $1500. The Whitewater postoffice was advanced from third to second class, and the salary from $1900 to $2000. Stoughton was not disturbed, the salary remaining as before $1900. A good many presidential offices in the state have shown a falling off of receipts—a very few any increase of business during the hard times of the last few years.

JOHN A. CONNORS HOME AGAIN

No Chance to Get Rich in British Columbia, He Says.

John A. Connors of this city, who left town but a few weeks ago in company with Michael Conway and William Poole, to seek their fortune in the gold fields of British Columbia, has returned home. Times in British Columbia are harder than they are here, and there are about one hundred men seeking every job. Mr. Connors says it is estimated that fully 1,300 men from South Africa are there with the intention of hunting gold. They are all out of work, and with but little prospects of getting any. Poole and Conway will continue to reside there for the present.

UNITED BRETHREN FINISH THE WORK

TOWN OF JANESVILLE CONVENTION AT AN END.

Three Days' Session Concludes With the Election of Officers—Rev. L. L. Thayer Is Made President—They Will Gather Next Year at Richland Center.

The three days' session of the Young Peoples Christian Union of the Wisconsin conference of the United Brethren church came to a close last evening at the United Brethren church in the town of Janesville. The following officers were chosen:

President—Rev. L. L. Thayer, town of Janesville.

Vice President—W. N. Blodgett, Woodford.

Treasurer—Miss Maud Perry, Wyota.

Recording secretary—Rev. Ida Richards, Cascade.

Corresponding secretary—Rev. J. H. Richards, Richland Center.

The session was one of the most successful and profitable in the history of the society. Fifty delegates were present from different parts of the state. The meeting was opened by short addresses on Tuesday evening. President Bookwalter, of the Western College, at Toledo, Iowa, delivered the annual convention sermon in a way that won him compliments from all. Presiding Elder W. F. Perry of Gillingham was numbered among the speakers and his remarks were brief and to the point. The work carried on by the society was reviewed by the members and that it was highly satisfactory to all seemed to be the universal opinion of the delegates present. The greater portion came from the cities of Monroe, Richland Center, and Cascade although several other towns were represented. This morning it was decided that the next meeting should be held in Richland Center but the date was not set.

Maryland Women.

There are many signs of progress in conservative Maryland. The school commissioners of Caroline county lately met and adopted the following resolution:

"That, in the judgment of the school board of Caroline county, the time has arrived when women should be recognized in the active management of the public schools, and that, through their appointment as district school trustees, as great, if not greater, efficiency will be secured."

In accordance with this resolution they appointed among the 156 trustees 12 women of good education and social position. The Baltimore American, commenting on this, points out that a large number of the teachers in Maryland are women and adds:

"If women are so practicable as schoolteachers, women should be equally suitable as school managers, and we know that if there were more female school trustees there would be better schoolhouses and an elevation of the whole scheme of public education. Caroline county has begun the revolution, and may all the other counties follow in its footsteps."

Women and School Boards.

In 28 states women can vote for directors of school boards. Missouri is not one of this number, but has taken a half step in this direction. While our women cannot vote, the men can elect a woman a member of the school board if these masculine voters are so inclined. This is a half step in the right direction. If there is anybody in the world more intensely and profoundly interested in the general welfare and education of children than all others, it is the mother, and she of all others will be most careful and competent to judge of the moral and mental qualifications of those who are to manage and teach the school for her children. Then why not allow her to vote for such directors and teachers?—St. Louis Christian Advocate.

A Popular Georgia Woman.

Mrs. Ellen M. Henriotin, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, has recently appointed Mrs. Robert Emory Park of Macon a member of the national educational committee of the general federation. This important committee is composed of four women, the other three being Mrs. Walton of Massachusetts, Mrs. Wilde of Illinois and Mrs. Margaret Evans of Minnesota. Mrs. Park is one of Georgia's most popular and prominent women, and the Georgia federation is much pleased over the honor that has been conferred upon her.—Exchange.

Expert Rifle Women.

It is a remarkable, not to say alarming, sign of the times that women should be growing so proficient in the use of the rifle. At a recent meeting held by the officers of the Second King's Own Scottish Borderers at Rawal Pindi a number of ladies shot, and Mrs. W. G. Nicholson carried off the first prize, with a very fine score at both ranges. Mrs. MacLellan taking the second prize. Mrs. Nicholson is also an expert golfer and recently won the gold medal presented by Lady Lockhart to the Northern India Golf club.—London Truth.

A Hint Not Taken.

It saves a lot of money to go to lectures in their bicycle suits, and many of the young women at Chicago university have the courage of their economies and appear smiling and serene in their short skirts. It is said that the young Hebrew professor gave the girls in his class this English sentence to translate into Hebrew: "A maiden should not enter class in a short, unseemly bicycle suit." But the girls told him they could not translate it, as there was no such word as bicycle in the Hebrew dictionary.—Boston Transcript.

My Lady's Parasols.

Parasols have blossomed out into a variety and fresh importance in the realm of fashion which is really disheartening to all women except the few who are blessed with unlimited incomes or a mind above the frivolous things of life. Fashion decrees that the up-to-date woman must have from six to a dozen of these expensive trinkets to harmonize respectively with her various costumes, but with three, well selected, she can meet all the requirements of fashionable dress. One should be of changeable or foulard silk, or ecru batiste, another of broadened silk, and a third one of chiffon or lace to carry with thin gowns.

The chiffon parasol is a thing of frill and fluff, which is a puzzle to any one except the ingenious designer who fashioned it. In this class of parasols there are various kinds similarly elaborate made of net, lace and gauze, and the handles are of gold set with jewels, with rock crystal and enameled heads of tortoise shell or some choice wood.

Elegant broadened and moire silks are used for covering, but there are all sorts of less expensive silk parasols in plain colors, plaids and stripes without limit to the variety. Ecru batiste parasols lined with a color and trimmed with narrow ecru lace are extremely pretty and useful as well as good style, and a lacquered wood handle is sure to be a desirable choice.—New York Sun.

Summer Gowns.

The majority of the smart summer gowns of diaphanous material have the skirts trimmed variously with lace edged ruffles, tiny frills overlapping each other from belt to hem, accordion plaited flounces of graduated width, set upon closely gored foundation skirts, Spanish flounces of various depths, vandyke points and fan platings set into the gores on the front and sides, panels of various widths alternating with five or seven flat killings; skirts with first a fluted frill about five inches wide set at the hem, then five narrow tucks, then a second frill, then the tucks, and so on until three-quarters of the skirt is thus trimmed. The rest is plain, and above this is arranged a rounded apron overskirt with sash ends at the back.

Among the dresses made of two different materials, or those in robe style that contain wide and narrow bands of embroidery and edging, are models showing the revived style of five medium wide killings alternating with a box plait or panel of embroidery, braided or formed of fancy material if the killings are of plain fabric, or vice versa. Above this arrangement is a little round overskirt, an exact replica of the short apron overskirt of other days. The killing and panel effects reach round the entire skirt.—New York Post.

Summer Sofa Covers.

Summer hammock and sofa cushions are covered almost entirely with washable slips, and the many pretty and artistic linen and cotton fabrics are preferred to silk. Agra linen, Russian crash, duck, cretonne, holland and the heavier dress linens are the favorite materials for summer covers and can be beautifully worked in the various colored cotton and linen flosses, to say nothing of the silk. If china, pongee and other washable silks are used, they should be plainly finished off with full frills of the same. Turkey red is a favorite color for decorating and embroidering the linen covers. A handsome pillow recently seen was made of black sateen, with turkey redimps and goblins and little devils applied on in all manner of grotesque and fanciful positions.—New York Tribune.

Princess Beatrice.

Princess Beatrice enjoys the distinction, according to London Lady, of being the only woman that the queen, in all the 60 years of her reign, has ever appointed to an executive office such as the governorship of the Isle of Wight. The queen relies strongly on her sound judgment and knows that her heart is in the right place. Her majesty's life would have been dull indeed of late years had it not been for her younger daughter, with the gallant and affectionate husband she has lost and the promising group of handsome children growing up around her.

She Went Out First.

"Madam," said the man who had a seat to the woman who had not, with some asperity in his tone, as the bridge car slowed up on the New York side of the bridge, "will you move to let me pass?"

"Certainly not, sir," said the woman standing in the doorway, with emphasis. "There are advantages in having a seat, and there are advantages in standing. One of the latter is that it is possible to be one of the first to leave the train. That is my privilege. I intend to avail myself of it." And she did.—New York Times.

Edinburgh Has a Woman's Club.

Edinburgh women have at last followed the example of their English and American sisters and now have a club of their own. A place has been rented in the west end of the town, and already the list of original members is complete, among them being many women belonging to country families in the neighborhood. Evidently the Scottish women while shopping in Edinburgh feel the need of some such club as the Town and Country of New York, where they may drop in for lunch or for a little rest.

Old Fashioned Jewelry.

The old style jewelry is coming into fashion again. Women are haunting the old curio shops trying to find beautiful old cameos like those worn by their mothers and grandmothers years ago. The old fashioned setting is rarely changed, the quaintly carved and twisted gold being considered extremely beautiful. The old brooches and rings are especially sought for and bring remarkable prices when found.

ACCESSORIES.

Light and Ornamental Shoulder Coverings For Warm Weather.

Capes of black satin, trimmed with mousseline de soie, gauze and ruffles, with beads and applications of guipure, are very numerous and fill a place in the wardrobe which would be empty without them. They are convenient, light in weight and serve to complete any kind of costume, besides supplying the protection that is not infrequently required on cool summer days. Moreover, they harmonize with all hats. More costly and less appropriate to a modest outfit are the capes of white or ivory silk, covered with gauze, embroidered with ceru cord or russet laces and guipures. It is impossible to wear these capes save with very elaborate and costly gowns, with which they do not seem out of place.

Great particularity is now shown in even the most moderate wardrobes with respect to linings and finishings. Everything, even the most trifling detail, must be correct and in accord with the prevailing mode. In matters of morning and bedroom toilet the demand for ultra daintiness is equally great. Wrappers and morning jackets, for example, are not only ornamented with embroidery, lace, bows, silk linings and insertions, but must have puffings of gauze of more delicate color, straw, rose, mauve, sky blue or pale green. Of course they must be removed and replaced every time the garment is washed, and unless it is done by the possessor herself the bill for continued rejuvenation is a considerable one. Corset covers, which are very elaborate, loaded with lace and insertion, are likewise adorned with these ruffles and puffings of gauze. They match in color the ribbon which is run in the heading and under the insertion. In order that the under costume should be complete it is necessary that the corset should be similarly trimmed with a flat application of lace and a border of gauze puffing matching the color of the plaited ruffles of the taffeta petticoat.

The illustration shows a costume having a skirt of thin, white cloth, embroidered around the lower part with white silk. The fitted bodice is of richelieu embroidery over gold colored silk, and is bordered with folds of gold colored silk. It opens over a plastron of gold silk, the collarette being of white mousseline de soie. The sleeves of white cloth have caps of richelieu embroidery over gold satin and small puffs of white lace. A drapery of white lace comes from each armhole and is arranged in a knot in front. There is a sash belt of gold satin tying with long ends behind of satin. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WARDROBE NOTES.

Fashions in Children's Clothing—Parasols to Match the Costume.

Mother Hubbard gowns are still the preferred wear for little children. These frocks have a lace yoke and epaulets and either long or short sleeves.

Black is having a decided vogue, partly perhaps as a revulsion from the brilliant colors that have been so lavishly worn for the last few years. There are many costume models in thin black cloth for out of door wear on chilly days, while black gauze over black silk forms charming gowns for warmer weather.

Parasols matching the costume are much liked this season. They need not necessarily be of the same goods, but the color should match. White parasols will accompany any costume well, if but one parasol can be afforded. Fine checks and silk and satin stripes are popular and neat for orinary use, while parasols for more elaborate occasions are of glaze moire, ruffled gauze or lace.

Hats are very much trimmed, whether flowers, feathers or ribbons are chosen for the decorations. Flowers are enjoying particular favor this year, and many very beautiful imitations of natural blossoms are shown. There is a fancy for making many of the varieties larger than life, immense cornflowers having a decided vogue.

The illustration given today shows a hat of ruby colored fancy straw. It is trimmed around the crown with a plaited ruffle of red taffeta. At the side is an immense reddish violet poppy with a yellow center, while at the back, falling upon the hair, are clusters of cherries with green leaves. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Easy as Swimming.

Mr. Slimpurse (who has been accepted by Miss Wealthy, without inquiries as to his financial standing)—I wonder, my darling, if your parents will give their consent?

Miss Wealthy (thoughtfully)—Ma has always been very particular about the moral character of young men I associate with, and I'm afraid she'll ask a good many questions.

Mr. Slimpurse (joyfully)—Oh, I can get references from half a dozen ministers.

Miss Wealthy (delighted)—That's splendid! Then after that all you'll have to do will be to get references from half a dozen bakers, and you'll catch pa.—N. Y. Weekly.

With Lights Turned Down.

"Do you notice any increase in your gas bills since your daughters are old enough to receive company, professor?"

"You have recalled something, sir, that is inexplicable to me. We regard mathematics as a fixed science, and yet it is a fact that I pay less for gas than when the entire household used to retire together. It's astounding."—Detroit Free Press.

Curse of Competition.

"Twenty-five dollars a month seems a pitiful salary for a schoolteacher," sighed the applicant.

WARM WEATHER WRAPS.

Short Jackets Without Godets—Description of a Carriage Mantle.

The indications of fashion already given in this column in regard to new capes, mantelets, fitted wraps ornamented with half capes, and the cut of jackets, trimmed, plain or embroidered, continue the same. It is hardly necessary to go over the same ground again, as ample descriptions have already been given—so ample that all new developments have been fully treated. Of course there is less to be said on the subject of wraps in warm weather, because they are less often worn. Carriage wraps are very dainty and elaborate, of silk or other soft fabric, following the lines of the figure gracefully. They are full, but light and easily compressible, when compression is necessary. For example, here is a description of a carriage mantle of gray moire. Around the lower edge are nine rows of narrow platings, pale green gauze alternating with gray silk. The top of the mantle has a yoke embroidered with steel and gold beads. It may be remarked, in passing, that steel and gold in combination are much employed at present in trimming, producing a rich and elegant effect. The yoke is formed in plaited ruffles of pale green gauze; the collar is encircled by a ruche of gray silk and another of green gauze and is lined with white guipure; while the front edges are adorned with puffings of gray silk from top to bottom. The garment is lined with pale green silk.

Jackets are worn very short, with no godets even at the back. The sack is by no means popular. What little vogue it had during the winter, as a novelty, is dying out. Blue, green and purple jackets are much seen, but the tones are all bright. Navy blue and bottle green are in the minority, clear shades being preferred.

Today's sketch shows a jacket of suede cloth fitted at the back and straight in front, the front being cut in large squares and ornamented with stitching. The sleeves have a very slight fullness at the top. The collarette, jabot and sleeve frills are of embroidered mousseline de soie, the hat of white straw trimmed with white ribbon and pink flowers. JUDIC CHOLLET.

OUT OF DOOR FASHIONS.

Capes Shorter Than Last Year and More Trimmed.

Both jackets and capes are worn. Jackets are very short, with close sleeves only slightly bouffant at the top. The fronts may be tight, loose, open or closed. When open, they disclose an ornamental vest of some bright or light color, plaited, gathered, covered with ruffles, ruches and all sorts of trimming. The side and back of the jacket remain very close fitting and are sometimes held to the figure by a belt ornamented with embroidery or stitching, which passes beneath the trousers, leaving them loose. This is the latest novelty with respect to jackets. The basques are short and flat, without godets, the high collar and revers engrossing all the fancifulness of cut.

Capes are yet shorter than they were last year, but still more trimmed, the suppression of large sleeves having given room for greater expansion of ornamentation. Some are mere boleros with wings, trimmed with platings and ruffles. The collars are high and flaring, decorated inside with puffings of mousseline de soie, tulle or black or white lace. Sometimes a large, thick ruche takes the place of the collar and is trimmed with bows of ribbon, bunches of flowers, etc.

The newest sun umbrellas are green, mauve or blue and have lacquered handles of the same color.

A picture is given of a costume of thin cloth of a light blue shade. The skirt is quite plain and has godets at the back only. The close bodice of blue cloth has double fronts, the lower being of dark red velvet embroidered with black, the blue fronts being likewise embroidered with black. The revers are of red velvet with black embroidery. The close vest is of white faille. The close sleeves have a very slight fullness at the top and are finished at the wrists by turned back cuffs of blue bordered with red velvet embroidered with black. The collarette, cravat and sleeve frills are of white lace. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Bonnets.

In direct contrast to the large, vulgar looking, overlaid hats, says a New York fashion writer, there have been brought out some tiny little bonnets that are nothing more than straw caps. The plait, as a rule, is coarse and the color more or less aggressive, but the trimming is simple, and the limited space at disposal prevents the exaggeration so conspicuous on most kinds of headgear now worn. Green and blue continue to assimilate, and often a very harmonious effect is produced. The green of the forgetmenot leaf and the blue of the dainty flower furnish a happy combination. Nature is a safe guide to follow where color is concerned, and a green and blue straw hat trimmed with forgetmenots and loops of green moire or velvet ribbon is charming. Lobelia blue flowers and foliage mixed with valley lilies trim a French bonnet of green straw in openwork, through which glimmer bits of the soft seashell pink lining.

The Grocerymen.

Couldn't Be Done.
The justice was one of those peace-loving men who hate to see their fellow men get tangled up in long legal wrangles.
"Don't you think," he asked, after he had heard a statement of the case, "that this is something that could be settled out of court?"
"Can't be done, your honor," replied one of the litigants, promptly. "I thought of that, but the monkey-faced coward won't fight."—Chicago Post.

The Difference.
"When you see two men constantly together," observed the ready-made philosopher, "it is safe to assume that they like each other."
Taking his cue from the philosopher's tone, the accomplished listener inquired: "And how about two women?"
"In that case," responded the philosopher, with an appreciative smile, "you may know that they're afraid of each other."—Chicago Journal.

Quadrant.
They said he was a student deep, and this is true, I think.
For ne'er a shallow man could hold such quantities of drink.
—The Morningside.

EXTRACT FROM A NOVEL.

"An irresistible, unseen power seemed to urge him onward."—N. Y. Times.

Very Likely.
Perhaps when 1900 comes and makes a brand-new date, she'll coolly mark it down again to 1898.
—Minneapolis News.

Found the Soup.
Mrs. Boarder—How do you find the chicken soup, Mr. Boarder?
Mr. Boarder—I have no difficulty in finding the soup, madam, but I am inclined to think that the chicken will be able to prove an alibi.—Richmond Dispatch.

Not Western Beef.
Fair Customer—Is this western beef?
Eastern Butcher (proudly)—No, madam; we don't deal in ill-mannered steers from the rowdy west. This beef, madam, is from a highly cultivated and very refined cow, formerly of Boston.—N. Y. Weekly.
